

FINSIA welcomes appointment of Michele Bullock as 9th RBA Governor

FINSIA today congratulates Michele Bullock on her appointment as the new Reserve Bank of Australia Governor.

The Deputy Governor, who will be one of the panellists participating at FINSIA's prestigious The Regulators event later this year, is the first female to be appointed to the role in its 62-year history.

"FINSIA welcomes the appointment of Michele Bullock to the role of RBA Governor," said Yasser El-Ansary F FIN, Chief Executive Officer & Managing Director of FINSIA.

"Her credentials as an outstanding economist are second to none, and we are confident she will be a great success as the 9th Governor of the Reserve Bank.

"We have been fortunate enough to have first-hand experience engaging with Dr Bullock during last year's The Regulators event - and we can testify not only to her expertise as a world-leading economist but also of her ability to captivate an audience of senior leaders and outline a vision for the future.

"We also acknowledge and congratulate Dr Philip Lowe for his outstanding contribution and leadership for more than 40 years at the Bank – he leaves the role as one of the most accomplished Governors in the organisation's history.

"The next phase of the Bank's future will be underpinned by a significant reform agenda that will transform the organisation and deliver a stronger central bank that is better equipped to meet the many and varied expectations of its stakeholders across society.

"On behalf of FINSIA's entire membership base, we wish Ms Bullock well as she transitions into her new role over coming months."
